

CERAMICS, EMPHASIS

Students engage with traditional formation processes in a learning environment that encourages material exploration and experimentation. This hands-on approach is grounded in the tradition and its evolving relationship with contemporary technologies and practice. Through critical engagement with materials, methods, and studio critiques, students are guided to develop both technical craftsmanship and a strong conceptual voice. The program emphasizes interdisciplinary exploration, supporting creative growth across a range of practices. The B.F.A. curriculum includes eleven studio courses—seven within the chosen area of emphasis and four electives.
