

HEALTH COMMUNICATION, MINOR

The Health Communication minor explores how messages shape health behaviors, relationships, and policies, from patient-provider conversations to public health campaigns. Students learn to design and analyze messages that promote healthier lives, reduce stigma, and build understanding within care settings and communities. Blending theory with practical insight, this minor complements majors in health professions, business, psychology, and more, preparing you to lead wherever health and humanity meet.

Course Requirements

Code	Title	Credit Hours
CMM 374	Health Communication	3
CMM 474	Patient-Provider Communication	3
CMM 479	Health Promotion and Influence	3
Select one of the Following:		3
CMM 315	Communication in Groups
CMM 319	Leadership Dynamics
CMM 322 	Intercultural Communication
CMM 410	Crisis & Risk Communication
CMM 420	Conflict Communication
CMM 456	Digital Communication
Total Credit Hours		12